DOOR CANOPY

When it comes to statement style, you need to think outside of the (bouquet) box. Involve blooms in a more off-beat sense, such as over doorways of your ceremony room

STEP UP

If your venue has a grand staircase you want to highlight, floral designs are a fab way to do it. They'll make a gorgeous first impression on guests and steal the show in pictures.

WALK THIS WAY

A petal-strewn aisle is one thing, but bringing in trees to line your route to 'I Do' is something else altogether! We adore this magical wonderland look. Add candles, tall grass and a matching green carpet, and the effect is positively bewitching.

SEATING PLANS

Let your guests know where to sit for your wedding breakfast in the prettiest way possible.

Frame your seating chart with flowers and foliage in your colour scheme or let flowers take centre stage by hanging table cards from the branches of a tree with ribbon, in the style of Philippa Craddock (pictured above).

WONDER WALL

The trend for flower walls shows no sign of wilting. In fact ever since the Kardashian-West wedding, requests for the style continue to rocket. We think they're bloomin' marvellous!

▲ STATEMENT STYLE

Bring a quirky look to boutonniere by pairing blooms with unconventional additions such as pine cones, feathers, complementing coloured ribbon or unusual foliage.
