

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TAASA Migration Camp Concludes Ndotu Season and Reopens in the Serengeti's Western Corridor (Grumeti)

Grumeti, Serengeti National Park, Tanzania – 1 April 2026 – TAASA Luxury Lodges & Camps announces the seasonal relocation of TAASA Migration Camp following a highly successful green season in Ndotu. The camp closed on 31 March 2026 and will reopen in the Grumeti region of the Central Serengeti from 1 May to 22 June 2026.

After an exceptional season in Ndotu - marked by dramatic wildlife encounters, thriving plains, an abundance of rain and the energy of the Great Migration - the camp now follows the herds northwest as they journey toward the Grumeti River.

A Strong Finish to a Remarkable Green Season

During our stay in Ndotu, TAASA Migration Camp delivered an extraordinary safari season. The camp has been celebrated for its balance of luxury and wild immersion, bespoke family experiences, unique culinary concept and expert, intuitive guiding. From vast herds moving through the camp to newborn wildlife sightings and exhilarating predator encounters, the southern green season revealed the Serengeti at its most vibrant and untamed.

A Strategic Move Into the Heart of the Migration

Reopening in Grumeti, near the Belo Belo plains, the camp will be ideally positioned to witness large concentrations of the Great Migration. Set just meters from the Grumeti River, it offers guests rare opportunities to observe wildlife movements and potential river crossings.

- Location: GPS coordinates 2°13'28.13"S 34°23'56.98"E / 36M 0655586, UTM 9753811
- Access: ~30 km / 18.6 miles from Grumeti Airstrip via Tani Kumi Bridge; ~70 km / 43.5 miles from Seronera Airstrip

An Immersive Safari Experience in Grumeti

The Grumeti region is renowned for its dramatic river crossings and predator-rich landscapes, offering guests a front-row seat to some of the Serengeti's most iconic wildlife moments. This seasonal positioning provides a quieter, yet incredibly rewarding phase of the Great Migration, including:

- Large herds grazing across dramatic landscapes
- Frequent sightings of lions, leopards, and hyenas
- Spectacular Grumeti River crossings with predators in pursuit
- Fewer crowds compared to the northern migration hotspots

Guests can also enjoy nearby hot air balloon safaris for a breathtaking aerial perspective of the Serengeti.

Continuing the TAASA Experience

At every location, TAASA Migration Camp delivers a refined, all-inclusive safari tailored for families and discerning travelers. From beautifully appointed tented suites to expert-led guiding, each stay reflects TAASA's core philosophy: Empower, Protect, and Explore.
