

A WEEKEND BOHEMIAN

Photographer & Content Creator

Updated Jan 2025

about me

---

I am a USA-based, travel content creator & photographer passionate about all flights: mimosa flights, coffee flights or flights off to far away places. I am originally from New Hampshire, but after 10+ years of being on the road, I have recently found a home base in Wisconsin.

When I am not exploring my new home or in a coffee shop researching my next adventure, I am off uncovering the secret, little places hidden around the world.

my mission

My overall goal is to help you create the visual content that you need to help you tell a story that connects with your audience.

thank you

Thank you for taking the time to go through this media kit. As I know there are many amazing creators, even if we do not end up working together at this time, I appreciate the time you are taking to consider working with me.
