Like a true anti-bride, Ally realizes that this is her moment, a blessing in disguise. Calling up her secret true love and her besties, Ally turns her ship around and marries the love of her life in secret—rewriting her happily ever after!”
