investment

Hi there—I'm so glad you're here. Before we begin, I'd love to walk you through how our artwork pricing works, because it's a little different (and intentionally so).

When you invest in a portrait, you're not simply buying a print or a frame. You're commissioning a piece of art—one that's been thoughtfully lit, delicately hand-retouched, and crafted to last for generations.

Your initial purchase covers the creation of that image. We keep sitting fees low so more of your investment goes where it matters—into your tangible artwork. All artwork purchases start with a framed portrait or matted print box. Let's be honest—this is the one your great-grandchildren will be claiming for their gallery wall someday.

After that, you're welcome to order more—whether it's additional frames to gift, smaller prints, or a keepsake box to treasure them in.

Every framed or matted print also includes a complimentary digital file, perfect for sharing with loved ones or saving to your device.

If you have any questions at all, I'm always here to guide you. Your portrait experience should feel as effortless and meaningful as the story it captures.

Warmly,
Hannah

Every portrait we create is designed to be more than a memory—it’s meant to become a lasting part of your family’s story, and a meaningful presence in your home.

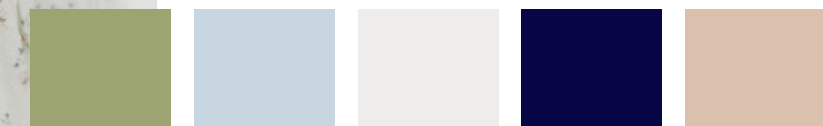

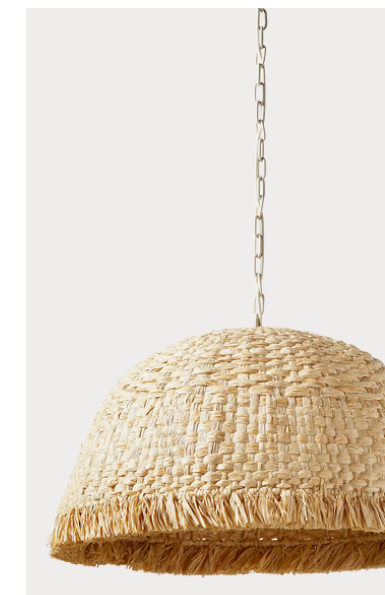

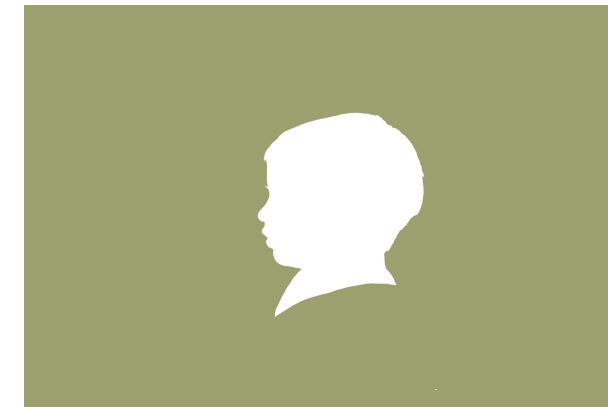

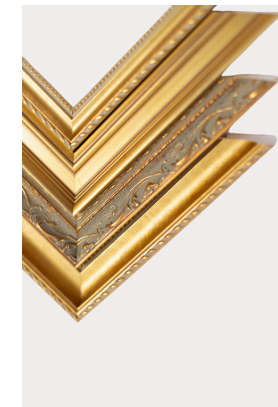

Our clients choose heirloom pieces that not only preserve a moment, but elevate the way it’s remembered—through framed art, keepsake boxes, and fine art prints meant to be held, seen, and passed down through generations.

There is no greater investment than preserving the tiny details you’ll want to remember forever.

Most families invest between $800–$2,500 in heirloom artwork that reflects their unique legacy.
