

SEL Lesson Plan

Lovey Livy Lu: A Rainbow View

OBJECTIVE &amp; PURPOSE	TOPICS	Mental Agility	Social skills
After reading and discussing the story, Lovey Livy Lu: A Rainbow View , a lesson on different perspectives, the learner will begin to understand and appreciate how there is often more than one way to see the same thing.	TEACHER	Critical Thinking	Self-Awareness
		Empathy	Active Listening
The learner will learn about the importance of creativity, curiosity, empathy, and maintaining an open mind.	GRADE	Positive Relationships	Leadership

KEY LEARNING OUTCOMES	UNIT ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS	INSTRUCTIONAL TOOLS
Encourage curiosity and creativity	What does it mean to have different perspectives?	Lovey Livy Lu: A Rainbow View book
Appreciate different opinions	What does it mean to put myself in someone else's shoes?	Accompanying lesson plan worksheet
Practice active listening		Little Leaders Reminder Posters
Explain empathy	What does it mean to have an open mind?

CONCEPT #1	CONCEPT #2	CONCEPT #3	CONCEPT #4
Active Listening	Perspective	Empathy	Respect
What is active listening?	What is perspective?	What is empathy?	What is respect?
Why is it important to demonstrate active listening?	Why is it important to understand another person's perspective?	Why is having empathy important?	Why is it important?
How do you show others that you are actively listening and hearing what they are saying?	What were some of the examples from the story where two people had different perspectives?	Can you think of an example where you showed empathy towards another person such as a friend or sibling?	What are some examples of how you demonstrate respect?
How do you feel when you are talking to another person who understands what you are saying?	What are some other examples of objects or situations that you can think of that might be viewed differently?	How do you think that made them feel?	What is self-respect?
How do you feel when you are talking to another person who does not understand what you are saying?		Can you think of an example where someone showed empathy towards you?	What are some examples of how you demonstrate self-respect?
		How did it make you feel?

VOCABULARY #1

Active Listening

Active listening means giving the other person your full attention and trying to understand the message being said.

VOCABULARY #2

Perspective

Perspective is the way you see something; a particular way of thinking about something.

VOCABULARY #3

Empathy

Empathy is understanding and caring about what other people are feeling or experiencing.

VOCABULARY #4

Respect

Respect is caring how your words and actions may affect others.

Self-Respect

Self-Respect is valuing your mind and body.

ASSESSMENT

- Teacher observation of student participation and engagement in the group discussion.
- Teacher review and assessment of student drawings from the worksheet.
- Teacher assessment of student ability to identify examples of different perspectives.

