Hello and Welcome!

We're so honored that you are interested in our services for your wedding. As sisters, best friends, and business partners we have experience with planning our own weddings and special events for friends, family, and clients. Now we can't wait to share the creation of Borrowed by Consilium Events with all of you!

We've grown up loving all of the little details that make a celebration feel personal and special. After planning so many events, we understand the decor pieces everyone needs to make their celebration a success.

Wedding planning is a long (and sometimes stressful) process and we want to help couples save time, money, and avoid disappointment when it comes to choosing personalized decor items. It is easy to get lost on Pinterest and Etsy spending hours trying to find the perfect items and then calculating shipping costs and arrival times (international shipping is so unpredictable). While some personal decor items might be treasured for years to come, you may find yourself questioning what to do with fifteen table numbers or a card box after the wedding.

This is where Borrowed comes in! We strive to provide high quality and meaningful signage for your wedding day with a personalized approach that keeps your celebration feeling unique. Our goal is that all of your personal items reflect your style as a couple and to save you stress on your wedding day with our white glove delivery and pick up service.

We can't wait to welcome you into the Borrowed by Consilium Events family and get started on your customized pieces!
